

EAST ASIAN STUDIES (EAS)

CORE FACULTY:

PROFESSORS O'MARA, SMITKA
ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS LUBIN, FU, IKEDA,
UJIE
ASSISTANT PROFESSORS BELLO, CHANG,
ROBINSON

The program in East Asian Studies is not a major. Students identified by the chair of the East Asian Studies committee as having completed the program will have a notation placed on their transcripts at graduation. While only certain regular courses are listed below as meeting the requirements of this program, other courses across the curriculum study appropriate material within the context of the various disciplines and in interdisciplinary ways. Students may petition the program committee to include other relevant courses in the program requirements.

The program requires completion of 22 credits, with an emphasis on either China or Japan, as follows.

China emphasis (22 credits)

1. History 103, East Asian Studies 391, 393
2. Twelve additional credits on China, including at least one 300-level course and including no more than three credits of Chinese language study, chosen from among the following:
 - Art History 240, 340, 390 (on a China-related topic)
 - Chinese 100, 101, 111
 - Economics 274
 - History 156, 383, 385, 386, 389 (on a China-related topic)
 - Literature in Translation 218, , 220, 295 (on a China-related topic)
 - Philosophy 168
 - Politics 227, 392 (on a China-related topic)
3. Three additional credits on General Asia or Japan, chosen from among the following:
 - Art History 140, 241, 242, 341, 390 (on a Japan-related topic)
 - Economics 272
 - History 378, 380, 381, 389 (on an Asia-related topic)
 - Japanese 100, 101, 111
 - Literature in Translation 221, 223, 225
 - Politics 327, 392 (on a Japan-related topic)
 - Religion 103, 131, 132, 231, 235, 335, 340.

Japan Emphasis (22 credits)

1. History 104, East Asian Studies 391, 393
2. Twelve additional credits on Japan, including at least one 300-level course and including no more than three credits of Japanese language study, chosen from among the following:
 - Art History 241, 341, 390 (on a Japan-related topic)
 - Economics 272
 - History 380, 381, 389 (on a Japan-related topic)
 - Japanese 100, 101, 111
 - Literature in Translation 221, 223, 225

- Politics 327, 392 (on a Japan-related topic)
- 3. Three additional credits on General Asia or China, chosen from among the following:
 - Art History 140, 240, 242, 340, 390 (on a China-related topic)
 - Chinese 100, 101, 111
 - Economics 274
 - History 156, 378, 383, 385, 386, 389 (on an Asia-related topic)
 - Literature in Translation 218, 295 (on a China-related topic)
 - Philosophy 168
 - Politics 227, 392 (on a China-related topic)
 - Religion 103, 131, 132, 231, 235, 335, 340

East Asian Studies 391 (1)—Senior Capstone in East Asian Studies

Weekly seminar in East Asian studies that focuses on research tools and methodology. Students develop and present to the group their capstone proposal. Additional presentations by East Asian Studies faculty and guest speakers. Staff.

Fall

East Asian Studies 393 (3)—Senior Capstone in East Asian Studies

Capstone project. Weekly seminar, focusing on the completion of the capstone project, including a formal presentation of the finished project to East Asian Studies faculty and students. Staff.

Winter

East Asian Studies 401 (1), 402 (2), 403 (3), 406 (6)—Directed Individual Study

Prerequisite: Permission of the East Asian Studies Committee. Staff.

Offered when interest is expressed and program resources permit.

East Asian Studies courses are as follows; for course descriptions, see the appropriate departmental listings:

- Art History 140—Asian Art
- Art History 240—Arts of China
- Art History 241—Arts of Japan
- Art History 242—Arts of India
- Art History 340—The History of Chinese Painting
- Art History 341—The History of Japanese Painting
- Art History 390—Seminar in East Asian Art
- Chinese 100—Supervised Study Abroad: Beginning Chinese
- Chinese 101—Exploring Chinese Language and Culture
- Chinese 111—First-Year Chinese I
- Chinese 112—First-Year Chinese II
- Chinese 113—Elementary Conversation
- Chinese 115—Supervised Study Abroad: First-Year Chinese
- Chinese 261—Second-Year Chinese I
- Chinese 262—Second-Year Chinese II
- Chinese 263—Chinese Language and Culture
- Chinese 265—Supervised Study Abroad: Second-Year Chinese
- Chinese 301—Third-Year Chinese I
- Chinese 302—Third-Year Chinese II

Chinese 311—Advanced Chinese I
 Chinese 312—Advanced Chinese II: Contemporary Fiction
 Economics 272—Japan's Modern Economy
 Economics 274—China's Modern Economy
 Economics 399—Capstone Seminar in Economics
 History 103—China: Origins to 20th Century Reforms
 History 104—Japan: Origins to Atomic Aftermath
 History 156—Seminar in East Asian History for First-years and Sophomores
 History 380—Japan to 1800: From Shamansto Samurai
 History 381—Japan in World War II
 History 383—China's Imperial Shadow: Prehistoric Origins to 1600
 History 385—The Yin and Yang of Gender in Late Imperial China (10th-19th Centuries)
 History 386—Managing Mongols, Manchus, and Muslims: The Control of Ethnic Diversity in China (16th-20th Centuries)
 History 389—Topics in Asian or African History (on an Asia-related topic)
 Japanese 100—Supervised Study Abroad: Beginning Japanese
 Japanese 101—Exploring Japanese Language and Society
 Japanese 111—First-Year Japanese I
 Japanese 112—First-Year Japanese II
 Japanese 115—Supervised Study Abroad: First-Year Japanese
 Japanese 261—Second-Year Japanese I
 Japanese 262—Second-Year Japanese II
 Japanese 263—Japanese Language and Culture
 Japanese 265—Supervised Study Abroad: Second-Year Japanese
 Japanese 301—Third-Year Japanese I
 Japanese 302—Third-Year Japanese II
 Japanese 311—Advanced Japanese I
 Japanese 312—Advanced Japanese II
 Japanese 401, 402, 403—Directed Individual Study
 Literature in Translation 218—Pre-Modern Chinese Literature in Translation
 Literature in Translation 221—Japanese Literature in Translation
 Literature in Translation 223—Seminar in Japanese Literature in Translation
 Literature in Translation 225—Poetry and Drama of Japan in Translation
 Philosophy 168—Chinese Philosophy
 Politics 227—East Asian Politics
 Politics 327—Japanese Political System
 Politics 392—Issues in Asian Politics
 Religion 103—Introduction to Asian Religions
 Religion 131—Buddhism
 Religion 132—God and Goddess in Hinduism
 Religion 231—Yogis, Ascetics, and Monks in Indian Religions
 Religion 235—Gods in Transit: The Spread of Religions in Asia
 Religion 299—Directed Study in Sanskrit
 Religion 335—Hindu Law in Theory and Practice
 Religion 340—Seminar in Asian Religions

ECONOMICS (ECON)

PROFESSORS KAISER, ANDERSON, CLINE, GOLDSMITH, HOOKS, KAHN, PEPPERS, SMITKA

ASSOCIATE PROFESSORS CASEY, MARCO
 ASSISTANT PROFESSORS BLUNCH, DIETTE, GUSE, LEIBEL

MAJOR

A major in economics leading to a Bachelor of Arts degree requires completion of at least 47 credits as follows:

1. Economics 101 and 102, 203, 210, 211, Interdepartmental 201, 202
2. Economics 398 and either Economics 399 or 493
3. Four additional courses in economics numbered above 211. (Note: Only three credits from supervised study abroad may be used to meet this requirement and a maximum of nine credits from special topics courses may apply toward major requirements.)
4. One course chosen from Politics 100, 105, and 111
5. Achievement in calculus at a level equivalent to Mathematics 101
6. One additional course in politics at any level or one additional course in mathematics for which Mathematics 101 is a prerequisite.
7. Grade-point average: at least 2.000 in the economics credits offered for the major, and at least 2.000 in the total of all credits, from whatever department, offered for the major.

Knowledge of mathematics is vital for students planning to pursue graduate study in economics. Students headed for graduate school are urged to seek the advice of members of the economics faculty in shaping their courses of study. Majors in economics who intend to pursue a Master of Business Administration degree or seek employment in the financial sector are advised to take courses in accounting. Economics majors interested in the consulting field should acquire strong computer skills and excellent writing skills, the latter through additional courses in English or journalism. Advanced study of a foreign language is essential for students interested in international career opportunities. Economics majors are encouraged to study abroad.

HONORS: An Honors Program in economics is offered for qualified students; see department head by March 1st of junior year for details.

Economics 101 (3)—Principles of Microeconomics

Survey of economic principles and problems with emphasis on analysis of consumer behavior, firm behavior, market outcomes, market structure, and microeconomic policy. The first half of a two-term survey of economics. Should be followed by Economics 102. (SS1, GE6a) Staff.

Fall, Winter